American Yacht Ran Away from the Britisher in Irish Waters.

SCORE NOW NINE TO THREE

Just After the Start the Vigilant Took the Lead and the Britannia Made a Stern Chase to the Finish-The Winning Boat Met

ROCHE'S POINT, Queenstown Harbor, July 24. For the third time out of an even dozen efforts the American yacht Vigilant to-day defeated the Britannia. The contest took get a LIGHT-WEIGHT OVERCOAT. place in the regatta of the Royal Cork Yacht Club, and the course was the same as that sailed over yesterday, with the exception that the finish, instead of being at the Spit light, at the head of Queenstown Harbor. as yesterday, is at the regular finish line of the club, between the clubhouse and No. 1 buoy, thus giving an extra turn to the yachts, making nine turns in all, against eight turns yes-

> The first leg, to Poor Head flag boat, was five and one-half miles long; the second, to Daunt's Rock lightship, was five and one-half miles in length, and the third, to Roche's Point flag boat, measured about four and three-quarter miles. Then after sailing three times around this course the yachts had to sali an extra four miles or so up the harbor and up the river, turning sharply to port, to finish off at the Royal Cork Yacht Cluo's headquarters. The prize competed for by the racers to-day was $500, offered by the

The two yacts were together for a time, but The two yacts were together for a time, but the American soon pushed to the front, and was never afterward headed, the times of the two yachts at the finish be-ing: Vigilant, 3 hours, 51 minutes, and 59 seconds; Britannia, 3 hours, 56 minutes, and 32 seconds. The Vigilant won by 4 minutes, 32 seconds and by 3 min-utes 22 seconds with time allowance de-ducted.

It transpired after the race that the jaws of the Vigilant's gaff were carried away when between Poor Head and Daunt's Rock on the final round. The remainder of the race was finished with the gaff lashed to the mast, and missied with the galf lashed to the mast, and starboard tacking was risky business from that time on. The yacht had to be handled in the most delicate manner while on the way back to Roche's Point and from there to the finish line. The gaff fell when the mainsail was being lowered upon the Vigilant's ar-rival at her moorings.

RACES RUN TRUE TO FORM

Winners at the Alexander Island Course Were All Well Backed.

TRACK WAS RATHER HOLDING

In Three of the Events Two Horses Were Equal First Choices at Post Time-Duke of Fief the Only Upset, When He Cantered Home Ahead of Meedmore.

Followers of form had every reason to be satisfied with yesterday's results at the island which had a license to win on form. The only disagreeable feature of the day happened while the horses were at the post in the sec-Bender were both injured, the latter being kicked by Banlo and his leg fractured. Hamilton was thrown and afterward kicked by long delay Murphy and Neary were substituted for the injured boys.

The track was heavy, but safe, and the fields were, as a rule, well matched, in three instances there being two equal first choices at post time. In the opening event Needmore was held at even money, despite his carrying the topweight. Duke of Fief was in at eighteen pounds' less weight, and many shrewd players got in at the liberal price of ten to one. At the close the Duke was at sixes. Needmore and the Duke had the race aiways between them, the latter coming away in the last sixteenth and winning handily by a length, while Needmore was ten lengths before Aunt Jane.

There were six withdrawals from the second race leaving six to go, with Benjamin and Trixy Gardner both heavily played to win. After a tiresome delay Trixy got off well and led to the end, winning; by three lengths from Jim Fagan, who was two in front of Benjamin, with Banjo only a head behind. Keime opened favorite for the third, but Ronald was so well supported that at the close it was 8 to 5 take way relek between the two. Keime got fields were, as a rule, well matched, in three Kelme got the best of a bad start and was never headed winning easily by three lengths from Ronaid.—In the third Ponce de Leon was deservedly played down to even money with Varuna next fancied. fancied. The latter led to the head of the stretch when Fonce de Leon took command and won easily by two lengths from Varuna, who was four before Senator, the latter a neck in front of Pickaway.

The closing event was an excellent betting affair, Lum opening favorite, going back, while Quartermaster and Tioga closed equal favorites at 8 to 5. The other starters were at any odds. Tioga and Quartermaster were always in front, the last named taking the lead on the turn for home and winning easily by two lengths from Tioga who was not quite that distance before Lum. Tioga found seven furlongs a little too far. While the track was heavy yet the going Quartermaster was heavily backed by his stable connections.

Little R. Bender received a nasty kick on the leg and will be laid up for some time. Duke of Fief should have been better played because of his good second to Wyoming at six furlongs.

Gonzales and Ronald got the worst of the start in the third race, Keime getting off in front and staying there.

At one time the odds against Benjamin were 3 to 5, but closed at 6 to 5. The horse just d'd beat Banjo for third place. Nubian was recently bought for $20, and the owner has lost five times that sum trying to win back the purchase money. Ponce de Leon is very good just now and can sprint or go over a distance of ground. With the exception of Traitor he is the best 3-year-old at the track. QUEEN LIL STILL PROTESTS.

The Cabinet spent some time yesterday in discussing the latest phase of the situation in Hawaii and the formal recognition of the new republic of Hawaii by United States Minister Willia.

It was felt that the minister had been a little precipitate in so committing the government of the United States without first consulting the Department of State, as is said to be customary in such cases, and as was done by the British commissioner, Mr. Woodehouse. Still the general opinion was that the minister's action was only premature, as the United States ultimately would be obliged to accord recognition to the new government, which appears to have been organized in the usual and regular course.

It was reported to the Cabinet that there were now on the way from Minister Willis mail advices setting out in detail what he has done and his reasons, and therefore the decision was reached to take no action in the matter until this matter comes to hand.

The President sent to the Senate yesterday a letter from Minister Willis to Secretary Gresham under date of June 23, in which the minister says: "On the 21st instant I received a protest signed 'Lillioukalani,' reciting from her standpoint the acts and facts prior and subsequent to the overthrow of her government, protesting against all such acts and 'earnestly requesting that the United States 'will not extend its recognition to any such government thus formed.

"Not feeling at liberty to answer or transmit this communication, I had an interview with Hon. Samuel Parker, the last minister of foreign affairs under the monarchy, to whom, after explaining the present attitude of our government and my inability to forward any such communication, I handed, for information, a copy of your dispatch hereinbefore mentioned and of the Senate resolution accompanying it.

"This course was adopted with the knowl-It was felt that the minister had been accompanying it.

"This course was adopted with the knowledge and consent of the provisional government. In reply to the direct question from Mr. Parker as to whether this was the final decision of the Senate, I said that in my opinion it was final."

nittee is making a still hunt for a witnes whose testimony is believed to be of the greatest importance. This witness is Samuel G. Battershall, who Witnesses who have so far been examined have named Battershall as the man who at one time had in his possession orders from Senators for the purchase of sugar stock. Edward O. Levy, a New York broker and employe of Wheeler & Co., of New York, was before the committee yesterday. The committee still refuses to give out the testimony, but the members units in saying that the testimony.

mittee still refuses to give out the testimony, but the members unite in saying that the testimony is important and that if they are able to complete it on the lines which they are following, the result will be either to fasten the charges or to bring them to a point where their falsity can be established. The chain, however, will be incomplete so long as the committee falls to find witness Battershall.

Senator Camden was asked if he desired to make any statement concerning the reports in the newspapers to the effect that the testimony had involved his name in sugar speculation. He replied that he did not desire to say anything at the present time, but would say anything at the present time, but would defer any statement that he might have to make until he could have an opportunity to make until he could have an opportunity to see the testimony.

Many rumors were reported from the committee during the afternoon to the effect that they were on the trail of important discoveries. Members of the committee when told of these rumors would not deny them, and some acknowledged that they considered the developments recently of importance, and said that the fact that the proceedings had not been made public gave them clews that they might not have been able to obtain.

One of the persistent rumors that were in circulation was that the committee had obtained a copy of an alleged order for sugar stock signed by a Senator, and this order purported to have been given before the Senator testified before the committee that he had no dealings in sugar.

This was repeated to a member of the committee, who said that he had no way of telling how such information got out of the commit-how such information got out of the commit-tee, and that all he could say was that testi-mony had been discovered which will call for a great deal of explanation, and further that it would be unfair to the accused to publish any testimony until he had an opportunity of making a defense. The committeeman further asserted that it is was a very unsavory affair all around. all around.

It is claimed by the Senator whose name is understood to be on the copy of the alleged sugar order that is a forgery and was gotten up for blackmailing purposes.

Thereupon the newspaper men present in the gallery raised such a disturbance that the president of the chamber ordered the galleries to be cleared and suspended the sitting while this was being done.
